Jesus Teaches in the Synagogue

When Jesus entered the synagogue in Nazareth, the town in which he grew up, he was handed a scroll of Isaiah and invited to read. He began, “The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to bring good news to the poor. He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives...” (v.18).

Jesus had left the desert following his baptism. He was feeling great. He had faced his temptations and was eager to begin his ministry. He went to the synagogue to pray. Imagine his surprise when he was given this particular Scripture to read. The words spoke to his experience. He was aware that the spirit of God was upon him. He felt he had been anointed to bring wonderfully good news wherever he went.

The words from Isaiah must have confirmed for Jesus what he had discerned in the desert: He had a mission that would eventually be shared by all those who truly came to know him. On that day in the synagogue in his hometown of Nazareth, Jesus takes Isaiah’s words and proclaims them as his own. He will open the eyes of those who cannot see and work his whole life to free those who are oppressed.

Jesus is aware that many people can see the trees but be blind to the forest. He knows that someone can be held captive and still walk freely in the world. His mission is to open people’s eyes to God’s love so they can love in the same way. His mission is to free those who are oppressed by fear and loneliness as well as greed and prejudice.

Jesus invites all people to be a part of the kingdom of God, and to bring justice to those who are poor, suffering and physically oppressed. He gave his life in faithfulness to this mission, and he offers us the same invitation. Through his life, death and resurrection, Jesus has freed us from oppression if we are willing to open ourselves to the new life he offers.

FAMILY RESPONSE

Ask family members to talk about one thing they are afraid of. Talk about why they think they have that fear.

PERSONAL RESPONSE

What are some of your fears? Do they hold you back? Do they keep you from being the best you can be? Are you willing to let go of those fears by asking for God’s help?
Luke reminds us that Jesus is from the town of Nazareth, a backwater village of about 500-1,500 people, most of whom were poor and illiterate. As part of the immensely powerful Roman Empire across the Mediterranean, Nazareth would barely have registered on the radar of the rulers of the day.

No wonder that the world was shocked to hear about an itinerant preacher from there who was attracting a great following. In John’s Gospel, we hear how incredulous this seems. When Philip told Nathanael about Jesus for the first time and mentioned he was from Nazareth, Nathanael burst out, “Can anything good come from Nazareth?”

But here is Jesus, already gaining fame and respect in the area, reading from the Old Testament scroll. (He’s from Nazareth, and he knows how to read!) He was not from the priestly class, yet by the time he comes back to Nazareth on this particular day, Jesus had already assumed the role of a religious teacher by speaking in the local synagogues. Then he reaches beyond that role and announces he is the fulfillment of Isaiah’s prophecy about the anointed one sent by God. This happens very early in Luke’s Gospel, and Jesus is starting off with a bold proclamation, unapologetic about his background and upbringng. He is setting the tone for the work he has come to do.

This weekend is the Collection for the Church in Latin America! Many people in Latin America and the Caribbean do not have access to church programs and ministries because of a rising secular culture, rural terrain, and a shortage of ministers. Your generosity makes it possible for our brothers and sisters in Latin America and the Caribbean to share in the life of the Church and grow closer to Christ. Please be generous to the special collection! To learn more, please visit www.usccb.org/latin-america.

Today’s reading from the Gospel of Luke offers us the first words of Jesus as he begins his public ministry. The words reflect his understanding of his Spirit-anointed mission. His words are his “Mission Statement.” Good stewards rejoice in being followers of Jesus. They realize that Jesus’ commission is their commission as well. They embrace it and adopt it as their own. We, too, have “glad tidings” to bring to a suffering world. This year, how will we fulfill Christ’s commission in the world in which he has placed us, using the gifts he has entrusted to us?

The recent ONE topic ONE night discussed the topic of Suffering in light of our Catholic faith. Father Shaun acknowledged there is much about suffering that remains a mystery, but our faith shines light on several guiding principles. Here are some highlights.

One topic. One night. One faith.

The question often asked is that if God is all loving, and all powerful, and seeks our good, then why is there suffering? God does not cause suffering, to do so would be a contradiction of the very nature of God, but instead God allows suffering. And, while we may not see or understand it, a greater good always comes from suffering. Our loving God is always drawing us into a closer relationship with Himself, and suffering can be a means to so. Suffering:

- Disciplines us, and builds humility.
- Awakens us to the realities of this world and helps prepare us for heaven, which will be perfect.
- Makes us holy here on earth, giving glory to God.

Through suffering, we learn to trust God. We choose whether to trust God as a loving Father and receive the good he is giving us, or to turn away in anger. In turning to God during times of suffering, we come into closer union with God.

“All the saints who have pleased God have gone through many tribulations by which they were made the sons [and daughters].” Saint Thomas Aquinas.

Our Catholic faith also gives us an opportunity to participate in Christ’s suffering; when we suffer Christ enters into our human suffering with us. In turn, by offering our sufferings to Christ’s, we participate in Christ’s sanctifying action, redemptive suffering. The early Christians saw sufferings with eyes of faith, focused on the world to come, and, with this divine perspective, suffering then is an opportunity to grow in faith, and to love and give glory to God. In light of the Gospel, then, suffering is a great gift.

Looking for an in-depth study of our Catholic faith?
Fr John Hardon’s
Basic Catechism Course
Mondays 7:00 - 9:00 pm
Begins Monday, Jan 28th

This 17-week study is a clear exposition of the four pillars of the faith, as outlined in the Catechism. Here’s what some recent participants have to say about this Catechism Course:

“A rich source of information to help me understand my faith on a much deeper level”

“Even though it was a challenge, I learned something each week”

“This class helped me dive deeper into my faith, and learn why we do what we do”

“I now appreciate even more the beauty and richness of our faith”

There is no fee for this course but registration is required via the website or kjohnson@stmarygostyn.org.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT:
After their moon landing, astronauts Aldrin, Armstrong, and Collins went on a world tour. Aldrin said of their visit to the Vatican: "It turned out to be one of the most striking and stirring moments of the trip. Pope Paul VI unveiled three magnificent porcelain statues of the Three Wise Men. He said that they were-guided on their journey to Jesus by looking at the stars and that we three were guided on our journey, also, by looking at the stars."

What "stars," keep me on course in my journey to Jesus?

“AS I GO ALONG I KEEP MY EYES FIXED ON THE LORD..."

“Thoing! Yoo-Hoo!...down here...with the lowly..."

“The Spirit of the Lord is upon me ... he has anointed me to bring glad tidings to the poor.”

Sheepish Question:
With my eyes fixed on Jesus, where does his Spirit lead me this week?

BAPTISMS: St. Mary of Gostyn offers baptismal preparation sessions on a monthly basis. If this is your first child, you will need to participate in a baptismal preparation session before you can receive a date for your baby’s baptism.

Parents are the first and primary educators in the practice of the Faith. Godparents play an important role in the faith life of your child. While considering godparents for your child, be aware that at least one must be a baptized and confirmed Catholic who is active in his/her faith. Please call the parish office at 630-969-1063 to register for a preparation class and to schedule a baptismal date.

BECOMING A CATHOLIC: The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) is a process of welcoming and preparing adults for the Sacraments of Initiation - Baptism, Eucharist, and Confirmation - for full membership in the Catholic Church. Unbaptized adults, adults baptized in another Christian faith, and baptized Catholics with little or no formal religious education are invited to participate. Please call the rectory for further information.

The Eucharist will also be brought to those who are ill, upon request. Please notify the Rectory if members of your family are in the hospital or homebound.

FUNERALS: Arrangements are usually made by the Funeral Home or by a family member. A member of our Bereavement team will meet with you to plan the Funeral Liturgy. Eulogies can be given at the Wake Service, Interment at the Cemetery or at the Funeral Luncheon, but not at the Mass of Christian Burial.
